MASONS OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF WASHINGTON.

The members of the local lodge of Masons, their wives, members of the Eastern Star, and a number of visitors of the Eastern Star, and a number of visitors assembled Tuesday evening for a patriotic program in observance of Washington's birthday.

A barbecue supper of beef and mutton and the usual accompaniments was enjoyed at six o'clock in the open air on College Square. Following this delicious repast, the participants repaired to the lodge room where a program of music and speaking was enjoyed. Several appropriate songs were sung by some of Hondo's best vocal talent and Rev. R. Merrill of the Baptist Church and Rev. P. E. Lancaster of the Methodist Church were the speakers.

Rev. Lancaster spoke eloquently and feelingly of Washington as the Mason and the Christian while Rev. Merrill dealt with his character as a Man and a Patriot.

Rev. Merrill said in part:

"In celebrating the birthday of this distinguished American citizen, not only all America, but the entire civilized world, does honor to themselves. For, such celebration is far from being a mere formality; it is rather an expression of deep reverence and profound admiration held everywhere for his exemplary character and enduring service rendered to his country and to mankind.

"Few men in all history hold so conspicuous and influential a place in the esteem of their fellows as does this man. A suitable outline for an address might be based on that crisp description: First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

"George Washington was born in the state of Virginia, one hundred and ninety nine years ago. Owing to his recognized wisdom and courage, he was early given a place of leadership, as a public man, in laying the foundations of this government; while to the unselfishness of his personal character and to his balanced judgment in determining questions affecting the common welfare, he must be regarded as being one of the supreme gifts of God to the American people.

"While it was impossible for him to fully foresee the possible, marvelous developments of our National life, yet he proved the genuineness of his patriotism and the dependability of his make-up by devoting his all to the welfare of the passing hour. It is not for man to say, Gentleman, what is to be—what the future holds in store; but it is ours to fill our own days with unselfish service to promote the common welfare. It was thus that George Washington proved that man's riches, after all, are found in what he has accomplished for his fellows.

"Our subject had the reputation among those who did not know him intimately of being unemotional, hard-boiled. On the contrary, he was a man of the deepest feelings, only he had remarkable self-control, never losing his head. No man can accomplish much, who has not deep and tender feelings. Here, the divine Son of God excels.

"His faith in his country's future and in the principles upon which it was founded, had much to do with the consecration of his life and all to its welfare.

"He was, in his day, a wealthy man. He was also an aristocrat in his nature; but his patriotism, his utter unselfishness, his love of his country and his fellow-men required that his talents, his courage, his possessions, his all should be laid on the altar of human freedom and progress.

"At one time, it is said that he offered to assemble, train and equip a thousand men, at his personal expense, for the defense of his country.

"Thus, he was single-minded in his devotion to the cause. He might, therefore be called, with entire propriety, the Typical American.

"It was unthinkable that he should ever play the politician. He never thought of a political machine to further his personal interests. He trusted the people.

"A statesman, therefore, was he, who had no other motive than to serve his country's welfare. We will ever remain an inspiring example to the best element in our Nation's life, and a perpetual rebuke to all with unworthy motives and ambitions."

Prof. W. N. Saathoff, a Post Master of the local lodge, presided as master of ceremonies in his usual jovial manner, and the entire evening was for pleasure and profit to all fortunate enough to attend.

Friends of E. C. Taylor will be glad to learn that he is now out on crutches. Mr. Taylor suffered a compound fracture of his right leg just above the ankle several weeks ago and is just now able to hobble about. The fractured bones have made a satisfactory union, however, and in due course of time will be thoroughly healed.

A message to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Newton, from Will Earnest Newton informed them that Mrs. Newton presented him with a son and heir on February 23, 1931.

The young man weighed nine pounds and both he and his mother were reported doing well. Grandpa Newton is studying up all kinds of reasons for an early visit to Sinton where he can strut his new-found dignity.

THE LEGISLATIVE MILL.

By Fred W. Davis

The Rev. Forbes met with an overwhelming defeat in the committee on his bill to create a state censorship of moving pictures.

I do not think the committee vote should be considered as an approval of all character of movies being shown in this state. In the light of existing laws governing movies and a feeling of revulsion, just now, against too much regulation created an atmosphere unfavorable to the proponents of the bill. Besides the measure is said to have left the censorship entirely to the ministry. Rev. Forbes has another bill to prevent moving picture shows giving legislators free passes.

The old antagonistic principles of government are ever present but the pendulum swings from side to side. For awhile our law-making bodies, urged by certain forces, will pass drastic laws governing the private actions of the citizens, then they will decide there is too much regulation and the enforcement of many laws become expensive jokes. Just now you never hear any legislators seriously claim that our citizens hold much respect for our laws.

Some people seem to believe that the primary purpose of established rules of action governing society are directive and positive, while others believe that laws are primarily prohibitive or negative to human action where interests clash. The former believe that those who are governed least are governed best.

If freedom of thought and individual liberty are natural or God-given rights, then governments instituted among men are primarily to protect the individual in his private pursuits—government stepping in only when the actions of individuals clash or overlap.

If human liberty and individual rights are the result of statutes then governments are primarily directive and the major purpose of government is to direct the actions of individuals and punish them for non-conformity to its edicts.

At every session of the legislature an effort is made to allow officials to search persons and private property of citizens for evidence of law violation and use such evidence, if found, against the citizens in a prosecution. Those who favor such legislation believe that punishment for a violation of law, though the violation be not known by the public, is of more importance than the sacredness of the rights of individuals to be free from official molestation where there is no process of complaint. If the wants and fears of individuals gave rise to government and law, then government should be an instrument of protection to individuals in their everyday walks of life, protecting right against wrong, the weak against the strong and not be a meddlesome instrument of terror, molesting at will its citizens in order to find reasons for punishment. That is too much like persecuting an individual into a confession, then convicting and punishing such individual upon the enforced confession. To repeat what was said in our first report, if people do not defend their liberties they will soon not have any.

To be sure some people are violating the laws of both God and man but isn't it better that a few violate the privileges of personal liberty than that the many should be deprived of them?

There has been considerable discussion over the emergency appropriation bill. As usual there has been much haggling and trimming of budgets calling for a few thousand dollars, while the hundreds of thousands generally go by unchanged. The Department of Agriculture asked for a few crumbs, and got, in the house, a wheelbarrow of bricks. It fared better in the senate. What will be the final verdict, time alone can tell. By the time it gets to the governor the emergency budget will likely be near one million dollars.

Taxation has had the limelight in committee work. Many efforts are being made to get the money to carry on. And everywhere it is proposed to place a tax there is created serious opposition. Verily it is a problem! There is no use to depend upon the farms, ranches and homes because they cannot pay. Almost every corporation declares they will have to go out of business even if a small tax is imposed.

When it comes to objects of taxation the automobile seems to be the favorite target. They now bear a headlight tax, a license tax, and a valorem tax. It is now proposed to put on a "right-to-drive" tax. Here is where large families will catch it unless they can get cut-rates. In the future, after you have paid your four taxes—and your gasoline and "lube" taxes and get out on the road you may expect to be held up and searched, (without warrant), by the game warden, highway patrolman, state prohibition officer, and federal prohibition officer, and if you get in a hurry after your many delays, you may get to pay a fine for running too fast.

Some thirty insurance bills are pending. One of the state's ablest attorneys told this writer that our entire insurance code should be rewritten. What the citizen is primarily interested in is insurance rates that are not so high they are prohibitive except to those who can add it to their overhead expenses and pass it on to the buying public. Tell your representatives you want a lower rate and a fairer contract and maybe these features will not be overlooked.

WHY GO TO CHURCH ANYWAY?

Why should anyone go to church? Isn't it a waste of time? Does it pay? Can I find there any remedy for the ails of today? What is it all about anyway? Do you have these questions arising in your thinking?

If you are facing these questions the very fact suggests that after all there may be something about us that is striving for expression. Many of us do not understand ourselves. That we have a divine likeness, that we are made in the image of a Divine personality we are forced to recognize. This inborn tendency can only be satisfied in worshiping Him in whose image we are made. The church has been established to direct and stimulate this worship.

If you will only stop and try to analyze yourself you will find that you are composed of a restless, dissatisfied nature that seems to drive you from one thing to another, and that there never seems to come that deep, longing, satisfying peace, that your very nature seems to urge you on in pursuit of it. It is that inner longing for expression that can only be attained in worship. The desire for that abiding peace that passeth understanding comes only to a life surrendered in Jesus Christ. It is this that your very nature is hungering for. And it is this that one gets in coming to church to worship.

Man is just as much a spiritual being as he is a social being. That he may be a well rounded individual he needs a complete development physically, morally, intellectually and spiritually. Any member of the body that is not exercised will by virtue of non-use become dormant and powerless. Just as the body must have food to develop and grow, the spiritual nature must have that spiritual food that comes in Church attendance and worship.

Do not starve your Divine nature, give it an opportunity to function that you may have the joy, peace, and happiness that is in the world for every one who accepts it. Remember the story of the prodigal boy. Why will you fill yourself with the husk that the swine will not eat, when the table of the Lord is spread with the good things that provides for his children. Come to the Gospel feast. Do not try to fool yourself any longer with the things that will not satisfy. You just as well try to lift your self by taking hold of your own boot straps.

The finals Saturday night was a real thriller and a hotly contested game throughout. Asherton's players, taller than the Yancey team members, played their height to advantage. At the half the score was 15 to 7 in favor of Yancey, but neat shooting by Harris and the making of foul shots by the Asherton team brought them to within three points of Yancey at the finish.

OWLS LOSE TO BADGERS.

From the Owl.
The High School Owls met defeat at the hands of the Baptist Badgers Saturday night 17 to 14. In a real battle that had both teams fighting throughout the game many thrilling plays were made. The Badgers grabbed the lead with the opening whistle and were never overtaken. Roy Schweers, first year player, came through and lead the Badgers in their attack. Roy grabbed off 7 points to take high scoring honors. Droicourt led the Owls with 5 points. The line-ups were:

RAIN DELAYS TRACK AND BASEBALL PRACTICE.

From the Owl.
Last week's rains interrupted the track practice that had been going on, and also delayed the baseball practice which was supposed to start Monday Feb. 16. There has been so much rain here lately that we were doubtful whether or not it would ever quit, but on Monday 16, the sun broke through to stay a few days at least. But now baseball and track are well under way with great promises in both.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS.

From the Owl.
"A district championship, nothing less," says Coach Barry when the subject of baseball is brought up. The Owls have won the championship of the district two out of the last three years, and seem headed in that direction again. Far be it from us to say that this year's team is the best that has been turned out on the local Plaza, but it certainly will compare favorably with the competition in the district this year.

Quite a few teams will be playing baseball for the first time this year. Uvalde, Crystal City, and Del Rio will enter the race, and perhaps some of the other Winter Garden teams. Pearcall, Rocksprings, Bracketville, and Hondo will all be back from last year with strong teams, and one of these four should be favorites to win the championship, since experience counts a great deal. Cotulla, Devine and Yancey may not play this year.

The Owls will have an experienced man back at every position, but unless some of them show improvement in hitting, they may be replaced by newcomers. Windrow led the club in hitting last season with an average of .500, and he seems a fixture at hind-snap position. He is quite a pitcher for his size, and will probably see service in the box. Langfield, a D'Hanis lad, has quite a reputation as a pitcher, and he is expected to bolster last year's weak pitching staff. His ability to come through will make or break the championship aspirations of the Owls. Rothe was the best of a poor lot of pitchers last year, but added experience will probably cause him to blossom into a star this season. Parson and Wilson may be given a chance at the box.

Frank Rucker is a likely candidate for first base, though Robert Reynolds may be shifted to that position. Parsons ought to make a good second baseman, and Finger and Wilson look like fixtures as short and third, respectively. Droicourt draws center field, and Leinweber, and Stanley will be battling for berths in the outfield. Newcomers who will be out for the team are Embrey, catcher, Edward Taylor, infielder, Frank Rucker, infielder, Milton Haegelin, outfielder, and Curley Mechler, outfielder.

TRACK SEASON OPENS.

From the Owl.
Basket ball is about over and by the time this is printed track will be on in full force.

The "Owls" will have trouble this year in building a team that will be in the running for the district honors; however, they should sweep the county meet fairly well. A lot depends on the condition of Windrow's ankle. If he is in shape he is always sure of from fifteen to eighteen points.
In the dashes will be Windrow, Finger, and Balzen; the last is the only prospect for the 440-yard dash at the present, but others will come out; Haegelin is fairly sure of the county unless some unusual speed merchant shows up. G. Pichot and Mechler (Curly) will enter the mile and there will be one or two more entrants as yet not decided.

It will be hard to develop a relay team in the class of last year which set a new district record. Haegelin is the only one left and some trouble will be had in finding three to run with him. The most likely prospects at present are Ulbrich and B. C. Rucker, with Joe Haegelin, H. Pichot, and M. Haegelin in unknown quantities. One can never be sure of a 440 man until well on in the season. If Hondo can win the relay at the district again it will make three straights which should also be some kind of a record or other.
E. Taylor, Windrow, and H. Pichot will throw the javelin. G. Pichot, Windrow, and Bailey will handle the shot. Bailey and Taylor should be able to get distance with the discus this year. B. C. Rucker, M. Haegelin, and G. Pichot will also give it a try.
Finger and H. Pichot will high jump and A. Haegelin, Finger and Windrow will broad jump. If Finger continues to improve he will be clearing as much distance as Windrow in another year.

The two Ruckers and Taylor and possibly some others will try the hurdles. There are no hurdlers back from last season, however, B. C. Rucker, and Taylor should do well in the highs and the lows respectively.
Hubert Balzen is the only candidate in Junior High School Track that has a record behind him. He should be a strong contender in the dashes and broad jump. Others that look promising are Noonan, Lancaster, Diaz and Muennink. There are 21 boys of junior age and they may be fitter than those mentioned. Hard work will in many cases make a good track man out of unpromising material.

Last Sunday afternoon the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Henry Schulte of San Antonio was baptized in Bethlehem Lutheran Church. He had as sponsors Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hartmann and received the name of Alfred Henry George Schulte, Jr.

Last Sunday night the Quihi Luther League rendered a splendid musical-literary program in Bethlehem Lutheran Church. A capacity and appreciative audience was present to hear and enjoy the many choice vocal and instrumental selections as well as a number of fine readings. All numbers were rendered excellently. Two charming and pleasing surprise numbers added interest and pleasure to the occasion. The first of these was an original poem by Miss Eileen Hartmann in which the epitomized history of the League was reflected from 1923 to the present time. The second was a timely and interesting resume of the life and work of George Washington, whose 199th birthday was being celebrated throughout the land.

Mrs. Otto Schmitt, recently brought here from Castroville for medical attention, died Saturday about 4 o'clock P. M. at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jos. Bader. Her remains were taken to Castroville for interment, and our Castroville letter contains a fitting tribute to her memory.

Elsewhere in this paper is a notice of the comic opera, "Jack and the Bean Stalk" which is to be presented tonight at the High School Auditorium by the singing class of the grade school, under the supervision of Ed. Armstrong. This clever program is to be given for the benefit of the Library Fund, and quite a crowd is expected to turn out for this worthy cause. The price of admission is low at 10c and 15c.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

After being in business for over fifteen years in Hondo, serving the automobile trade, I have this day retired from the same and disposed of the business and goodwill of the Citizens Motor Car Co. to Messrs. Geo. Grasciel and Robert Koch who will continue to serve the people at the same location.

This change was made on account of my continued ill-health. In retiring I wish to thank the public for its generous patronage throughout all these years and I solicit your continued favors for my successors.

Saturday, February 21, 1931.
Yours with best wishes, Aug. E. Weyand.

Referring to the above, we wish to say that it will be our endeavor to maintain the reputation for prompt and efficient service established by Mr. Weyand during his long years of service. The best of mechanics will look after your work and the best of material available will be used in all of our jobs and our prices will be as low as consistent with the service we give you. In taking charge of the business, we solicit the continued patronage of the former customers of the Citizens Motor Car Co. and hope to make many new friends for the Citizens Garage.

BADGERS HAVE SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

The Hondo Baptist Badgers closed their playing season Monday night with their goal for the year realized. The Badgers started the season with the motto, "Meet All Teams and Win Half the Games" and Saturday night they won their 20 game for a total of 10 wins. The Badgers had difficulty in matching games during the year and had to go out of their class several times in order to secure a game.

Lettermen for the year were announced as follows: Captain Carter Snooks, Glenn Jones, Roy Schweers, Travis Taylor, Jack Mask, Bradley Bailey, Homer Rothe, and Ralph De Montel. Reserve letters (awarded those who participated in only a few games or played before reporting to the school team) were given B. C. Rucker, Edward Taylor, Leo Pettis, Henry Windrow, Thomas Taylor, Clarence Wright and Billy Ross.

The Badgers adopted the plan to take part in the production of a picture show at the Colonial Theatre as a means of raising money to purchase sweaters for the team. Co-operating with Mr. Ray L. Jennings and Mr. Claud Gilliam, the Badgers will have charge of the showing of William Haines in "Remote Control" on Thursday and Friday, March 5 and 6. The Badgers will furnish a short program of local talent and also award attendance prizes for both nights.

The Badgers meet Monday night March 2, at 7:00 P. M. in the study of the Baptist Church for an important business meeting.

THE COOL METHOD OF PERMANENT WAVING

With this method the hair is curled by gentle steaming that keeps the hair softly moist all through the wave. It restores strength and sheen to hair which has become dry and brittle through harsh chemicals and over-heating commonly used in inferior methods of permanent waving.

MRS. MARY ANNA JUNGMAN.

Another of the grand old ladies who helped wrest this western country from the savages and convert it into a land of happy homes of a civilized people, has passed through the portals of the life beyond the grave.

Mrs. Mary Anna Jungmann departed from this life Friday afternoon at 4:40, o'clock February 20, 1931, at the ripe old age of 89.

Deceased was born in Bourbach, Isaac Lorraine, July 27, 1841. At the age of 4 years, she was brought to America by her parents, Joseph and Katerina Meyer, who were among the first who came with Henry Castro's colonies. At that time the means of travel were not as enticing as today, when luxurious gray hounds plowed the deep and re- quire only 5 to 7 days to cross the ocean. When deceased crossed the ocean, sailing ships were the only means of travel at sea, and as a consequence they were a long time crossing the ocean before making a landing at Port Lavaca in March of

The Publishers.

1845. Mrs. Jungman was the last surviving member of the Meyer family.

The trip overland was made by ox-cart and due to heavy laden wagons, and muddy roads a great number of the passengers walked most of the way. The deceased often related how she and her sister walked and when she grew tired her sister would carry her. She grew to young womanhood in Castroville and on February 16, 1860 she was happily married to Peter Jungmann, (now deceased) at Castroville. To this union eleven children were born, two daughters and nine sons, to-wit: Louisa (now Mrs. Eugene Bohl of Devine), Annie (now Mrs. Joe M. Sauter of South San Antonio), Louis Jungmann of Devine, Peter and Seraphin Jungmann of Hondo, Frank and Alex Jungmann of LaCoste and Fred Jungmann of Castroville. Those who died in recent years were Emil Jungmann in San Antonio and Joseph Jungmann in California. Another son, Jacob, died in infancy. She is also survived by 38 Grandchildren and 40 Great Grandchildren. The deceased had complete use of her faculties up until a year ago when a fall dislocated her shoulder. After that she made her home in Hondo with her son, Seraphin, until July when she moved to South San Antonio and remained with her daughter, Mrs. Joe Sauter until her death.

During the eighty-five years which she lived in Medina County, her life was an example of patience and benevolence.

After her marriage she not only had the care of her children, but also was a great help to her husband who was then in the Mercantile business.

By her request the deceased was buried in the wedding dress she wore at the time of her marriage to Peter Jungmann.

After services at her late residence in Castroville and at St. Louis Church Sunday afternoon her body was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery at Castroville, Rev. Jacob Lenzen conducting the services. Hundreds of lifelong friends mingled their tears with those bound to her by blood ties over her passing.

But it should be a consolation to them to know, that a life spent well, has its reward beyond the grave, and the one they mourn has duly earned the reward to be obtained by a life spent in loving care and understanding.

And a greater consolation to know that before her death she was fortified by receiving the last Holy rites of the Catholic Church.

The pall bearers, all grandsons of the deceased, were: Leonard Jungmann, Emil Jungmann, Alex Bohl, Arthur Jungmann, Leonard Sauter, and Fred Jungmann.

MRS. ANNA BERNARDINA SCHMIDT.

The sad news reached here of the death of Mrs. Anna Bernardina Schmidt who died Feb. 21, 1931, in the Hondo Infirmary after an illness lasting approximately seven weeks.

The deceased was born in Castroville Feb. 22, 1871. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Otto Schmidt, her aged mother, Mrs. Catherine Holzhaus, two sisters, Mrs. J. Her- man, and Mrs. Joe Baimos of San Antonio, and Arthur Holzhaus of Castroville, two half sisters, Mrs. Joe Bader of Hondo, and Mrs. Theresa Burhart of Piedra Negras, Coah. Mexico. Also her niece, Miss Mag- daline Holzhaus whom she raised since a baby of 13 months old.

Funeral services were held at her late residence and at St. Louis Church Monday morning. Rev. J. Lenzen conducted the services.

MRS. MARY MEHR.

Mrs. Mary Mehr died at 8:35 Friday Feb. 20, 1931, after an illness of 6 months. The immediate cause of her death was pneumonia.

The deceased died at the age of 74 years, 4 months and 15 days. On Aug. 19, 1908, the deceased was married to Joseph Mehr. To this union were born four children, three daughters and one son, Mrs. Chas. Burrell and Mrs. Gus Schneider of Castroville, Mrs. Ben Haby of Dun- lay, and Louis Mehr of Bader Settle- ment. She is survived by twelve grandchildren, one sister and 5 brothers. Funeral services were held at her residence and at St. Louis Church, Rev. J. Linzen officiating.

CARD OF THANKS.

For the many acts of kindness to our dear mother, the late Mary A. Jungmann, during her long illness, for the many expressions of sym- pathy for us in our sorrow, and for the many floral offerings and the attendance of friends at the funeral, we are profoundly grateful, and take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation.

Gratefully,
The Jungmann Family.

YOU HAVE A DOCTOR'S WORD FOR THIS LAXATIVE

In 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he saw the harm in harsh purgatives for constipation and began to search for something harm- less to the sensitive bowels.

Out of his experience was born a famous prescription. He wrote it thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. As people saw how marvelously the most dis- tressing bowels are started and led to breath, headache, feverishness, nausea, gas, poor appetite, and such disorders, are relieved by the prescrip- tion, it became necessary to put it up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. It never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original effective and harmless formula. All drugstores have it.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.
By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texas"

Oil Excitement High
There is no abatement of interest in East Texas oil development. Rusk, Harris and Upshur counties appear to be enough oil under them to keep producers busy for many years. A well in a gusher near Longview has sold for $3,500,000. It is estimated to have a potential production of 5,000 barrels daily and there is not another producer in 12 miles of it.
Nearly every shallow oil field in Texas appears to be a deep well prospect and in many sections plans are being made for deep well development. The low prices of oil are aiding the opening of some fields.
Many producers appear to have confidence that with the adoption of measures now being urged the old prices will be restored and the independent producers, who carry naturally all the burden of development will reap rich rewards.

Farm Development Retarded There is now a danger that in that section of East Texas where the oil is highest much of the interest recently shown in farm diversification and development may be lost.
There is already evident a letting up of interest in dairying, due partly to low price of milk and cream, but chiefly to the fact that farmers who are secure oil bonuses are likely to conclude that they are prosperous enough without toiling on their farms for uncertain profits.
Following in the wake of nearly every oil boom is a depression caused largely by idleness and the failure of farmers and others to readjust themselves to conditions. The safe thing for landowners in oil territory to do is to accept what-ever bonuses and royalties they get as much earned surplus and to continue their farming or other business as though they had never received any oil money. When an oil boom collapses—and most oil booms do—it is a mighty fine thing to have a well-tilled farm to rely upon for living.

What Tourists Like Responses to questionnaires sent by the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce visitors who spent the winter 1929-30 there, indicate that the most pleasing thing about the city is the climate. Next to that they liked the parks and playgrounds; favorable living conditions and, third, and hospitality of the people was fourth.
A place can not make its climate, but it can create all the other conditions named, and it is up to those who want to get and hold visitors to see that these things are provided.
And, it is already evident from visitors being received that Texas will be a more summer tourists in 1931 than ever before. This is the time to be getting ready for them.

Hill Country Resorts
The "Hill Country," west of Austin and San Antonio, is beginning to draw to the fact that, with only a little more nature has provided, it can be made into one of the most attractive beauty spots of the country. There are hundreds of streams, large and small, between the hills of that section along which thousands of lakes can be made by the construction of inexpensive dams and which when stocked with fish will make a steady source of income for the owners.

Most of them could be used for reservoirs for storage of water for irrigating the rich valleys. The water now runs to waste. A start has been made in the building of such dams by community co-operation, and the work should not stop until thousands of lakes dot the valleys.

Going After The Trade Burnet and Llano are both planning roads from these towns to the location of the big $6,000,000 dam and power plant improvements on the Colorado river near them, each determined to get its share of trade that will result from such a large amount of work. It is likely that the roads will be of permanent character, as it is expected that following the completion of the immense dam, thousands of homes will be built around the shores of the lake.

Building Theaters
Following the announcement of the purchase of 61 Texas moving picture houses by the Hughes Franklin Theater Company for $2,500,000, comes another that the same company will erect a number of new theater buildings in Texas. One to be erected at Del Rio will cost $150,000.

Buying Postoffice Sites
The Federal Government is buying a number of postoffice sites in Texas and before the year is far gone several postoffice buildings will be under construction. San Angelo is among the towns that has been waiting for a long while for a postoffice building, but is expecting one soon that will cost $200,000.

Few Split Taxes
Although the legislation made provision for splitting this year's State and county taxes into two payments, collectors report that but few took advantage of the provision. Most of those who paid any taxes paid all and collections have been as heavy, except in a few counties, as they usually have been. Most of the people who pay taxes apparently are not suffering for money for necessary expenses.

County Manager Plan
The city manager plan of government has proven so satisfactory that the Texas legislature is contemplating submitting a constitutional amendment to provide for the extension of cities to cover an entire county, with its affairs managed by one set of officials along the present city manager plan. This should cheapen office-holding expenses and result in greater efficiency in city-county administration.

No Charity Seekers
Devine, near San Antonio, is not complaining of "depression." When $300 was sent there as its quota of the Red Cross proceeds from the Will Rogers lecture at San Antonio, the check was returned with a statement that no destitute families could be found in that vicinity. Farm diversification is a hobby at Devine.

More Milk Wanted
The milk products company at Cameron says that the only limit now to its products is an insufficient supply of milk. This is despite the fact that the plant pays cash for all the milk taken to it. Milk production is limited by the farm feed crops, as most farmers find little profit in buying feed to convert into milk. The remedy is plain and applies to other places than Cameron. Plant more feed, less cotton.

Diversification Increasing At Travis county farm report shows that out of 4,794 farms, 1842 had diversified crops in 1930, which was an increase of 122 per cent in five years. Sixty-five more farms were terraced in 1930 than in 1929.
Feed crops were larger last year than in many years, a surplus of cane hay and corn being made for shipment.
Austin savings deposits grew to nearly $7,000,000, a gain of almost $2,000,000 over the previous year.
Not so bad, and there are other Texas counties that did as well, no doubt.

Growing Cantaloupes
Elgin farmers are going to plant 300 acres—maybe more—in cantal-oupes this season and will plant uniform seed and follow growing instructions in order to secure markets at best prices. A marketing company has agreed to buy the melons delivered at Elgin in bushel baskets.

Wool and Mohair Factory San Marcos citizens are considering a proposal to use the cotton mill building erected several years ago, but never equipped with machinery, for a wool and mohair products factory. At present there is not a woolen goods factory in all of Texas, which is among the largest producers of wool.

Turkey Trotting Again
The Cuero Record says that plans will be formed at an early date to hold a Turkey Trot again this year.
Cuero attained National fame for its Turkey Trot celebrations a few years ago and should not lose its prestige as a famous turkey market by leaving off its unique form of publicity.

THE BURNING QUESTION.

The Burning Question is how to get money to pay for an immediate cash producing education. If you want the money bad enough you can get it. You believe what others are doing you can do—don't you? The five Byrne Colleges are full of students who got up and raised money and here are a few of the ways they raised it: sold cotton, peanuts, cow, horse, hogs, chickens, car, or anything they had that was saleable; borrowed at bank, of a relative, friend, on dad's life insurance policy; got one or more friends to endorse their note, then went to a bank or to an old bachelor who had money and endorsed the note over and got the money; the Rotary Club, Lions Club, and other luncheon clubs, or some women's organization loaned them the money. Some who could not raise all the money to pay for their scholarship paid up a substantial amount and gave us a note for the balance signed by two or three reliable parties, and we secured their spare time work to pay their room and board. We have many boys working spare time in cafeterias, waiting tables in boarding houses, addressing envelopes for mailing companies, working in parking stations, ushering in theaters, etc., some make extra money. Most of our out of town girls are living in nice private homes where they assist the lady of the house to pay board and room.

The young man or woman who makes a sacrifice and a special determined effort to get his business training now is going to be far in the lead when it comes to getting a good position this fall. Young friend, what other determined young men and women now in our school have done you can do if you will just resolve not to take no for an answer and say I Will. You can at least take one of our money back guaranteed courses by correspondence at home and come in to school near the finish of your course for personal instruction and the service of our employment department.

Realize your opportunity and get busy raising money, start working, talk to people, let them know you are in earnest and some of them will help you to make good. The old adage still holds good "Where there is a will there is a way." If when you get into action raising money and proving to your friends you are determined and sincere you run up against a problem you can't quite solve, write us, or better still come to see us and we will gladly help you solve it. Get our catalogue, it will help you.

A HONDO BOY LOOKS AT NEW ENGLAND.

Most of us know that New England is the greatest manufacturing center of the United States. Factories are always located where there are facilities for making of goods, and it seems that the north is blessed with numerous streams and rivers which make water-power easily available. Flowing water means money to these people and they surely have taken advantage of it, for seldom do I look at streams of any size but what there are miles of factories to be seen scattered along the banks.

It seems a shame that Texas has to ship her cotton two thousand miles, have it transformed into articles of wearing apparel, and then buy it back after it has been reshipped to the same place whence it originally came. That is being done everyday and few people think much about the actual facts. I have noticed lately where some of the progressive citizens of our state are taking steps whereby Texans may be enabled purchase goods manufactured within the state itself. These few remarks are somewhat of a digression from what I started to speak about, but they are all the more evident when one views the factories of the northern states.

To see a factory one-half mile long, two hundred yards wide, and six stories high is quite a sight to one who is not used to such, but they are not uncommon here. Sometime ago, a friend and I took a brief tour of the state of Massachusetts and I go my fill of factories. Thousands of people are employed in each of the larger mills, and we can imagine how many finished products they manufacture everyday. The old-fashioned spinning-wheels, are so far out of date that the "one-hoss shay" is modern compared to them. Machines of various kinds are working endlessly, doing the real labor while people watch them. It is a remarkable sight to me to glance down a long row of spindles and notice how all parts are working perfectly. Inventive genius saves us from doing many things our forefathers were compelled to do.

The boot and shoe industry, watchmaking, cloth-making and other forms of manufacturing had their beginning in England. (That is, insofar as the United States is concerned.) Located in Providence is one of the largest iron and steel factories in the world. From Willimantic, Connecticut, comes much of the thread with which the woman of Hondo sew.
These are just a few examples of our unnoticed connection with New England.

FARM LOANS

The Hondo National Farm Loan Association, H. E. Haass, Sec.-Treas.
Hondo, Texas, representing 260 borrowers with $1,025,280.00 borrowed is prepared to make farm loans anywhere in Medina County under the Federal Farm Loan Act at 5 per cent interest and 1 per cent 36 year amortization repayment plan. Sixty-two thousand Texas farmers have taken advantage of this system of borrowing over one hundred eighty one million dollars. Why not you?
Former restrictions have been taken off and you may borrow for any purpose provided for in the Act, as a farmer only.

11 YEARS CONSTIPATION GLYCERIN MIX ENDS IT "For 11 years I tried to get rid of constipation," says Chas. E. Blair.

"Then at last the simple mixture, Adlerika, made me regular."
The simple mixture of glycerin, luciferin bark, saline, etc., (Adlerika) acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, relieving constipation in 2 hours! Brings out poisons you never thought were in your system. Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel! W. H. W. ndrow, druggist.

Another interesting thing to be seen here is the proximity of towns or cities. So close are they to each other that ordinary street-cars (besides trains and interurbans) may be taken to practically any part of these states. As yet I cannot tell when I'm out of Providence, for there are cities on the north, west, and south, with the ocean on the east side. To me such conditions are not desirable for I can't get a breath of good country air when I want it.
